INFORMATION ON THE PRESENTERS

Dr Patrick Harding's career includes teaching evolution and ecology to adults at The University of Cambridge and Oxford as well as 20 years organising the science extra-mural programme at The University of Sheffield.

Peppered with humour and anecdotes he makes learning a fun and engaging process. His depth of knowledge and research is underscored by his published work which includes 8 books (4 on fungi, others on flowers, trees and Christmas), including the Collins Gem guide to Mushrooms and Toadstools. Patrick has been into mushrooms for over 30 years and hasn't killed himself yet!

The Sheffield Brewery Company.

Dr Tim Stillman set up the brewery with co-founders Pete and Eddy in 2006 after working at the University of Sheffield as a bio-chemist.

As a life-long CAMRA member Tim loves nothing better than dabbling with flavours and creating new special real ale concoctions. Tim's tours are very highly regarded; so whether you're a beer buff or novice you should book a place now to find out more about this fascinating world of brewing.

After the first free drink the bar will be open throughout the evening for the sale of fine quality real ales (all excellent fungal products!) wine and soft drinks.

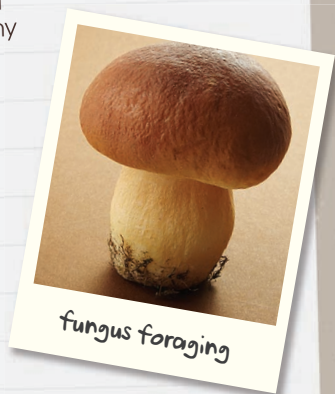

PROGRAMME OF FUN

Welcome nibbles by PJ taste with a complementary real ale or glass of fizz from The Sheffield Brewery Company

An illustrated talk by Dr Patrick Harding on the best edible wild fungi growing in Britain; where to look for them and how to recognise them, as well as their role in gastronomy and brewing.

Supper - Hot dishes of fungal pleasure by PJ Taste

Brewing Secrets revealed - Dr Tim Stillman will lead tours of the brewery which is located in the famous industrial heritage polish works known as Albyn Works. You'll experience a wonderful assault on your senses: the aroma of the hops; the crunch of the malt; the sight of yeast fermenting and the taste of some wonderfully individual fine quality real ales handpulled at our very own vintage bar!
